The Presentments

Of the GRAND-JURORS of the body of this Province, at a Court of General Sessions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer, Assize, and General Goal Delivery, begun and holden in Charles-Town, on Monday the 18th day of April, 1768.

I.

WE present as a grievance, that so large a magazine of gun-powder as the present, is kept in Charles-Town, to the great terror of the inhabitants, whose lives and fortunes are in continual danger of destruction thereby.

II. We present as a grievance, the want of a law, to prevent the landing and storing of pitch, tar, turpentine and hemp, in Charles-Town, to the southward of Craven's-bastion.

III. We present as a grievance, the want of a law, to prevent Negroes and other slaves going into, or being found in, any house where spirituous liquors are sold by retail, without a ticket from their owners; and that licences for retailing spirituous liquors, are granted to unworthy persons, and to the wives of tradesmen, whereby the law is evaded.

IV. We present as a grievance, the want of a proper fish-market in Charles-Town.

V. We present as a grievance, the want of public streets in Charles-Town, leading from Ashley to Cooper-river, at convenient distances between Queen-street and Anson-borough.

VI. We present as a grievance, the want of a law, to prevent the exhorbitant expence that owners and masters of vessels are frequently run to in the court of vice-admiralty, for trivial causes, to the great detriment of the trade and navigation of this province.

VII. We present as a grievance, the want of public schools in the interior parts of this province, for the education of the children of poor people settled there.

VIII. We present, on information of the honourable Robert Pringle, Esq; Joseph Wigfall, George White, Allen Bolton, Samuel Warner, Jonathan Scott, Joshua Toomer, Levi Durand, Gabriel Capers, and Benjamin Wigfall, commissioners of the high roads of Christ-Church parish, Berkley county, for not keeping the King's high-road in that parish, in good repair.

IX. We present as a grievance, the want of public places of worship and ministers of the gospel, in the back parts of this province, that the inhabitants there may have the gospel preached, and other Christian duties performed among them.

X. We present as a grievance, Edward Musgrove, Esq; a justice of the peace, at the forks between Broad and Saludy rivers, as a man reputed, and believed to be, a very bad person, and encourager and conniver of thieves and robbers, to the great annoyance of his Majesty's good subjects in those parts; Also Thomas Bond, a justice of the peace in Amelia-Township, as a person unworthy of that dignity; on the information of Moses Kirkland.

XI. We present as a grievance, the want of a law to prevent masters and patroons of coasting-vessels discharging their ballast in the rivers and navigable creeks in this province, to the obstruction of the navigation thereof.

XII. We present as a grievance, the narrowness of the roads between Charles-Town and the causeway leading to Ashley-Ferry, as the numerous carriages to and from the adjacent plantations, as well as to and from the remote parts of the province, by the great increase of the inland trade, renders it dangerous to travellers.

XIII. We present Edward Johnston, for keeping a disorderly house in Elliott-street, retailing spirituous liquors without licence, and to Negroes; on the information of James Payne, constable.

XIV. We present William Manning, for keeping a disorderly house, entertaining Negroes, and supplying them with spirituous liquors, living near St. Michael's church in Charles-Town; on the information of Robert Howard, constable.

XV. We present as a grievance, that two Town-lots in Charles-Town, (No. 300 and 301) through which the late fortifications and ditch ran (adjoining northward on the lots lately possessed by Mrs. Mary Frost deceased) are lately fenced in, and a house built on it by Mr. Thomas Farr, sen. notwithstanding the same was paid for by the public above twenty years ago, to Mrs. Mary Watson, and therefore deemed public land;—to prove this, call Isaac Mazyck, Esq.

XVI. We present Joseph Curry, Esq; for selling unclaimed toll'd Horses, and not returning any money for them to the public-treasurer, for several years past, which is supposed to amount to a considerable sum, 'tho he lately declared, that he had been to Charles-Town, and paid the same to the public treasurer; on the information of Thomas Green, of the Congarees.

XVII. We present William Harvey, for a nuisance, in building a necessary-house in his yard, in Tradd-street, Charles-Town, for his Negroes, without making a vault, or putting in a tub, but left open behind, and thereby very offensive to the family of George Saxby, Esquire, and others; on the information of said George Saxby, Esq.

Leghorn, January 22. A letter has been received from Bastia, which affirms, that the republic of Genoa has accepted the plan of pacification proposed by the Corsicans. Though the particulars are not yet made public, it is known that the Genoese grant to the Corsicans the possession of the places, and independency of government guaranteed by the two mediating powers.

Madrid, Jan. 26. The commission established by the King, and to which five bishops have been admitted whom his Majesty sent for here, continues its deliberations, not only on the use they ought to make of the effects that belonged to the expelled Jesuits, but also on the reformation of the clergy, and the necessity of remedying the abuses which are crept into the interior management of the monasteries; and lastly, on the means of putting on a better footing the universities of the kingdom.

LONDON

January 28. We hear that Captain Hawker, of his Majesty's sloop Sardoine, stationed at South-Carolina, is appointed by the lords of the admiralty a post captain in the navy.

The Peggy, Island, from North-Carolina to Hull, is lost on the north-west coast of Ireland, and one man drowned.

January 30. They write from Leghorn, that the whole yearly revenues of Corsica amount to seventy millions of French livres, exclusive of what still continue to be exacted by the Genoese.

Orders are given by the lords of the admiralty, for a large quantity of cedar planks, mahogany and black walnut-tree, to be imported from North-America, for the use of his Majesty's principal dock yards.

They write from Leghorn, that General Paoli has received a present of a gun and two pistols mounted in gold, with a gold hilted sword and sabre; which came by the way of Hamburgh, accompanied with an anonymous letter, couched in the most obliging terms upon his conduct and exploits, for maintaining the liberty of the Corsicans.

The Corsicans are taking great pains to procure a respectable fleet. They have already three ships at sea, which belong to the government of the island; and the city of Ajaccio has added thereto a half-galley, carrying 120 men.

His excellency governor Woodley, lately appointed to the Leeward Islands, and John Durent, Esq; lately made chief-justice there, embarked at Portsmouth on wednesday last, on board the Loyal Briton, for the West-Indies.

Letters from the Hague mention, that the States-general had given orders for the sum of seven millions of guilders to be laid out in the purchase of salpetre, wherever it could be bought up.

February 4. At a meeting of the merchants of Liverpool, a proposal was read for opening the East India trade. By this scheme, chambers are proposed to be established at London, Bristol, Liverpool, Hull, and Glasgow the first to furnish the government with 2,400,000*l.* the two next with 1,600,000*l.* each; and the two last 800,000*l.* each; in the whole with eight millions at two per cent. in consideration of which the trade to be free to these chambers only. Extract of a letter from the North of Ireland, dated January 22.

"During the late severe snow in these parts, upwards of five hundred sheep belonging to one farmer, were entirely buried by the violent drifts in the vallies. What is very surprising, upon the melting of the snow which was not till ten days or a fortnight after, they were all found alive, but fast asleep, and what is further remarkable, they were all in much better condition than before this accident happened. This may afford a question not incurious to naturalists. It is well known in respect to other parts of animal life, that sleep has the effect of nutrition; and as to many of them we certainly know that they exist merely by sleep for one half of the year. What a discovery this may prove to the farmer? Whether he happens to be short of grass, or cannot get at what he has for snow, he has nothing to do but to raise a hill of it over his flock and let them sleep it out."

Yesterday the right hon. Henry Seymour Conway, Esq; kissed his Majesty's hand on being appointed colonel of the 4th regiment of dragoons, in the room of the late Sir Robert Rich.

The national debt, in the reign of King Charles II. was not a single shilling. In 1763, the national debt is upwards of 130 millions.

February 10. It is said that the patriotism of a certain nobleman will shortly be restored to its antient splendour and unrivalled lustre, by his procuring a pardon for a certain exile; and thereby restoring to his country a patriot who has suffered more for it than perhaps any one in the present age or nation.

The affairs of our colonies being at length, most happily for them, as well as for the mother country, put under the direction of a nobleman, long distinguished for his great abilities and his truly patriotick spirit, who has thoroughly studied them, perfectly understands them, and pays a due regard to their importance, it is justly hoped, that many gross abuses therein, which have been too long overlooked, or connived at, will now be rectified, and many new and salutary regulations introduced, which are greatly wanted. In Jamaica particularly, it is said, that the two courts of chancery and errors, which have hitherto proved the most oppressive grievances, by keeping the properties of many worthy subjects cruelly locked up by unnecessary delays, will, by the earl of Hillsborough's means, be changed into courts of relief: and that the new governor, who is soon to set out for that island, will be especially instructed to give all possible dispatch to the numerous suits which have for many years been depending in those two courts, in both of which he presides.

The Treasurer of the crown, who has hitherto enjoyed a pension of 120,000 florins, is to have for the future an augmentation of 80,000 florins. Letters from Rome observe, that though the circulation of ready money has been considerably increased in Corsica since the arrival of the Spanish jesuits in that island, which makes their residence there very agreeable to the inhabitants, yet their credit or ascendancy over the government seems not to be the better established. They have taken great pains, it seems, to obtain liberty to open public schools in the towns where they have been admitted; but General Paoli expressly forbade it, signifying to them at the same time, that they must not pretend to interfere or meddle with any thing.

Yesterday morning a noble Lord surrendered himself in the court of King's Bench to the laws of his country, upon a charge that had been exhibited against him for a rape: The counsel for the crown were Sir Fletcher Norton, Mr. Dunning, Solicitor-General; and Mr. Sergeant Davy: for his Lordship, Mr. Eyre, Recorder, Mr. Wedderburn, and Mr. Thurlow. When after several learned debates, his Lordship was admitted to bail, himself in 4000*l.* and four sureties of 1000*l.* each; for his appearance at the next assizes for the county of Surry: and the two women were also admitted to bail, themselves in 400*l.* each, four sureties in 100*l.* each.

February 15. That most honourable and important title of Great Commoner, which has been extinct ever since July, 1766, is now happily revived in the person of that great friend to liberty, and inflexible enemy to bribery and corruption Mr. Alderman Beckford, one of the worthy representatives of this metropolis.

Letters from Leghorn, dated January 11, say, "We are assured that General Paoli has in view the establishing an aristocratical government in his country; and that in order to form a political edifice agreeable to the genius of his fellow citizens, he has collected the maxims of some ancient and modern republicks, as well as their different laws and ordinances. These materials, employed by a man of extensive and solid understanding, may produce such a composition as will merit as much the admiration of Europe, as the military exploits of that famous deliverer of Corsica.

Letters from Leghorn, dated January 18, say, "They write from Corsica, that some considerable offers were lately made to General Paoli, to engage him to enter into the service of a certain great power, but he made answer, that he had resolved in imitation of Timoleon, as soon as he procured the liberty of his country, to spend the rest of his days in retirement.

Indian corn, (as mentioned in yesterday's ledger, and further asserted, that it would answer in all our different manufactures equal to the finest starch imported from Poland) it might be a means of preventing at least 50,000 quarters of our best wheat from being made into that article; which may be looked upon as a happy circumstance for the distressed poor throughout the kingdom.

February 18. We hear that not only his Majesty's ships of war will be sheathed with copper, but the cupola at the bank buildings, and all public domes, will be covered for the future with the same material, as being much lighter, and infinitely the cheapest method for a term of years.

They write from Paris, that a Corsican nobleman, with a grand retinue, was just arrived in that city, with dispatches from general Paoli to the French court.

By a letter from Wigan, we have the following extraordinary account of a cock-match lately fought in that neighbourhood, viz. 45 battles, No. 45 won the Main, 45 dined together, the landlord 45 years of age, 45 dishes, 45 toasts drank, and 45 l. laid to 45 farthings, that the like does not happen again in 45 years.

It is now said, an eminent English lawyer is employed in drawing up a code of laws for the service of the Corsicans, by the particular desire of Paschal de Paoli.

Yesterday morning died, in the 77th year of his age, at his house in Great Russel-street, Bloomsbury, the right honourable Arthur Onslow, Esq; one of his Majesty's most honourable privy council, and late speaker of the honourable house of commons; in the chair whereof he had sat for upwards of 33 years; being longer than any of his predecessors. He was the third of his family who had been nominated to that high office. On the 23d of December last, he had the appearance of a mortification in his leg which was succeeded by a slow and gradual decay; from that time he has endured all the pains and torments insident to those disorders, with an unshaken firmness of mind, a most engaging chearfulness and condescension to all that attended him, and above all, a reverential submission to the will of God

Feb. 20. A number of high-bred English horses and mares are now buying up in Yorkshire, to be sent to the island of Corsica.

According to letters from Archangel, we learn, that on the 17th of October last, an uncommon vessel, built of whalebone and the skins of fishes, had been driven on shore near that port, with certain savage people on board, who spoke an unknown language, not to be understood either by the Laplanders or the Samfy Indians; and by signs declared they came from towards the north pole.

"May it please your Excellency,

"We his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the commons of Ireland, in parliament assembled, think it incumbent on us, to testify to your excellency, our grateful sense of your excellency's effectual endeavours in favour of the bill for limiting the duration of parliaments in this kingdom.

"It is with the highest satisfaction we reflect, that the auspicious reign of our patriot sovereign, has been distinguished by the return of a bill so essential to the constitution, and to the advancement of the protestant religion in this country: and we congratulate your excellency upon an event which must add lustre to your administration, and remain as a monument to posterity, of the disinterestedness and independency of this house."
